THOMAS DRINKWATER DIES AT CALGARY

Thomas O. A. Drinkwater, native of Macleod, Alta., and son of pioneer residents of that town, died Thursday evening in a Calgary hospital, following a long illness.

Born in Macleod, the late Mr. Drinkwater, who was 32 years of age, was prominent in lodge and social life of the southern town. He was president of the Canadian Legion there, secretary of the Elks and a member of the Knights of Columbus.

Mr. Drinkwater served overseas for two years and since the war has been prominent in Legion affairs. He first enlisted with the 156th Battalion in Edmonton, but was transferred to the 13th C.M.R. with which unit he served overseas. He was a member of the staff of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Macleod.

Surviving Mr. Drinkwater are his widow, Mary, and three children, Rose Mary, Margaret and Thomas; his father, Edwin Drinkwater, pioneer of Macleod; and five sisters, Mrs. Callen, B.W. Island; Miss Nellie Drinkwater, Mrs. Forsyth and Mrs. Galbraith, all of Vancouver, and Mrs. Landry, Spokane, Wash.

The remains were laid to rest in Macleod on Monday.

BALL GAME POSTPONED

The challenge baseball game, which was billed to take place last evening between the Hillcrest All-Stars and the Pick of the Pass, and for which quite an advance sale of booster tags has been realized, had to be regretably postponed owing to the inclement weather.

It is now planned to pull off this fixture tomorrow (Friday) night, weather permitting, so everyone is asked to retain their tags and be present.

Three boys were drowned in Lake Minnewanka on Tuesday.

JEAN CRUICKSHANK WINS SILVER MEDAL

Jean Cruickshank, daughter of G. E. Cruickshank, M.L.A., and Mrs. Cruickshank, of Hillcrest, in the Crow's Nest Pass, has brought home to herself and this district through winning the silver medal awarded by the Associated Boards of the R.A.M. and R.C.M. for piano work in the intermediate grade music, according to word received here on Friday last through Mrs. H. H. Sharpley, resident secretary at Calgary.

In all, six medals are available for the whole of Canada; but this year only four were awarded, of which Miss Cruickshank's is one.

Students must win a minimum of 130 marks to be considered eligible for the award, a gold and a silver medal being offered in each grade. This medal was the only one won in Alberta, the three others going to Victoria, Vancouver and Winnipeg. This is the first time, also, that such an award has come to this district, and Miss Cruickshank has won distinction, not only for herself, but for her community. Her teacher is Miss Madeline Chardon, of Blairmore, who is now enjoying a tour of Europe.

TRAXLER-SERGEANT

A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the manse, Medicine Hat, on August 15, by the Rev. M. S. Blackburn, when Faith May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sergeant, of Etzikom, became the bride of Mr. Claude Traxler, also of Etzikom. The bride, who is one of Etzikom's most popular young ladies, looked charming in a gown of white satin and lace, carrying a shower bouquet of sweet peas and maiden-hair fern. Only the immediate relatives of the bride were present. The bridegroom's present to the bride was a string of pearls. The young couple will reside in the Etzikom district, where the groom is a successful farmer.

This wedding is of local interest, as the Sergeant family formerly resided here. Mr. Sergeant being the first pastor of Central Baptist church, which was built during the period of his pastorate. Mrs. Sergeant is a sister of Mrs. W. Howe.

SPEED LIMITS OR NONE

Existing speed limits in the various provinces are constantly the targets of talk, and changes from time to time may be confidently forecast. One change was urged in a resolution passed recently by the Border Cities Chamber of Commerce—"As a result of reports received that United States motor tourists are being warned to stay away from Ontario because of the enforcement of the 30-mile per hour speed limit in the country and of the 20 mile per hour speed limit in the cities, towns and villages of this province, the Border Cities Chamber of Commerce further suggests that the Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations pass similar resolutions urging an increase in the speed limit.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN FORCED OUT OF CORBIN BY FIRE

(From Our Correspondent)

Corbin, Monday, Aug. 24.—Sunday afternoon the men who had been fire fighting at the two-mile camp were forced to flee before the fast travelling fire which was gradually closing in on Corbin during the last two weeks. The Corbin picnic, which was in full swing eight miles down the valley, was suddenly halted by three piercing whistles from the train engine, and all men, women and children were ordered to get back to town to defend personal property. The train, carrying its load of human freight, soon got under way for the slow climb back to town. All the families who journeyed to the picnic by car were back in town at least twenty minutes ahead of the train.

The fire, after getting away from the guards at two-mile camp on the Flathead road, passed Taylor mountain across to Coal mountain and started its deadly race up the hillside, where the Big Showing (a strip of coal on the surface of the mountain) is situated. With the coming of dusk, the fire slackened its pace and Corbin citizens settled down with men patrolling the town to await morning.

Monday morning, the inhabitants woke up in a valley filled with a thick smoky haze. Around nine o'clock a slight wind arose, blowing up the valley, which cleared the smoke away. About ten o'clock, a wind began to fan the flames, helping the fire to awaken to full force once more. Smoke poured over the top of Coal mountain and was carried on over the valley toward the Alberta prairie. All the miners working underground were ordered out and the little shut down before noon. To help eliminate smoke being set by flying sparks, the fire hoses were put into play on the dry buildings, both at Corbin and the wye, a section of the town three-quarters of a mile down the track from the main town, where the roundhouse, water tank, lumber yard and some dwellings are situated. At 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, all women and children were ordered out of town, the train taking most of them to Cold Springs, where there was comparative safety for the time being. At this time the fire was just about 1500 feet from the fire guard out around the wye property and coming strong in dense timber, and fire fighters were fast organizing to combat the oncoming flames. About 3 o'clock, another horror appeared in the form of a cyclonic wind roaring down the Flathead valley and fanning the flames on the mountain sides to fiercer heights. Trees were torn away. Two men were felled to the ground and the roundhouse, near the section house, was demolished and afterwards razed by fire. This wind lasted no longer than ten minutes, but in that time live embers were carried for miles and spot fires were started everywhere. Finally, the wind went down, but only after outlying buildings in the wye section had been burned.

On Tuesday, greatest fears were for the wye, Corbin town proper and No. 6 mine. At Corbin, fires were burning on Coal mountain, about a hundred yards from the nearest buildings.

During the intense burning on Monday night, some of the electric lines fell, but these were repaired in quick time and Corbin was again connected with the outside world.

Some of the people who left their homes in such a rush on Monday afternoon, returned to them in the evening, but were again ordered out of the danger zone.

A barn, three flat cars, two houses, the roundhouse and two garages have been burned at the wye. There has been no loss of life and all refugees are being well provided for. Every male resident of the town joined in

Cancer Research

Commission Finds That Important Progress Has Been Made

"We found that the best results in cancer treatment were being obtained through surgical, X-ray and radium treatment were being combined, and we also found that remarkable steps have been made in cancer research," said Dr. W. T. Connell, who has just returned from Europe, where he was studying the cancer question with the Ontario cancer commission, appointed by the government of Ontario. A comprehensive survey of the cancer question and the treatments being used was made by the commission in both the United States and Europe.

"What the commission saw is most encouraging," said Dr. Connell. "We found from our investigations that where an organized movement was made to secure for the patient the three methods of treatment, surgical, X-ray and radium, the best results were secured, and the highest percentage of recoveries was recorded."

Manitoba Unemployed

Over Half Of Those Out Of Work Are Living In Winnipeg

Unemployed persons in Manitoba total 40,817, according to a careful survey of the province that has just been completed by the provincial government with the aid of city, municipal, town and village authorities.

It is estimated that including dependents of unemployed the number of persons in the province without means of support is 105,000.

This information was obtained at the request of the Dominion government which wanted to know the number of unemployed and their location before allocating funds for relief projects. It does not include farmers who have suffered crop failures.

Hon. W. R. Clubb, Director of Unemployment relief, has sent full details on the situation to Hon. Gideon Robertson, Federal Minister of Labour.

The total of unemployed for Winnipeg and its suburbs was found to be 20,767, an increase of 2,767 over the number of unemployed in June of this year.

Arthur MacNamara, assistant director of unemployment relief, estimated that the normal number of employed in a population of 270,000 in Winnipeg and suburbs is 70,000. Of that number over 20,000 now are out of work.

The total number of persons in Greater Winnipeg, including unemployed and their dependents, without means of livelihood is estimated to be 50,000 at the present time.

The other figures on unemployed sent to Ottawa show a total of 2,486 unemployed for St. Boniface, Brandon and Portage la Prairie; 4,033 for the towns and villages of the province, and 15,531 for the rural municipalities.

Figures on unemployed were sent to the provincial government by the secretary-treasurer of each city, town, village and municipality in the province.—Manitoba Free Press.

Strange Cave Dwellers

People In Tunis Live Underground To Escape Heat

Tunisia has perhaps the strangest cave dwellers in the world. They are found south of Gabes on the fringe of the desert, and in their efforts to escape the heat they have dug dwellings for themselves in the sand.

The traveller crossing the plain of Matmata comes across what appear to be wells, and is surprised to hear sounds of talking and children's laughter coming up from the earth. Looking down, he discovers in the half light a small courtyard, and tunnelled from the bottom of the well-like cavity are complete dwellings.

Access to these underground dwellings is through a slowly descending tunnel, and when the habitation proper is reached it is found to be beautifully clean and cool. Down below the surface lives the whole family, and there are stables for their animals.

Encouraging Report On Inspection Of Wheat

Grain Passed Through Department In Winnipeg Of Exceptionally High Quality

"Grain which has passed through the inspection department at Winnipeg is of exceptionally high quality. A considerable amount has been graded No. 1 Hard, a great deal has gone No. 2 Northern, and some has gone No. 2 Northern on account of mixtures of durum and barley, but this year's crop, as far as it has reached the inspection department is of an exceptionally high standard."

This was the statement made to officials of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference by J. D. Fraser, chief grain inspector, Winnipeg, with reference to the quality of cars of the 1931 crop from western Canada, which have already passed through the inspection department at Winnipeg.

Mr. Fraser stated that the grain thus inspected had come from many different parts of the prairie provinces and indicated that the 1931 crop is of much higher quality than expected. Despite adverse conditions from spring seeding to harvest western Canada this year has produced, as far as present signs go, a quality of exceptionally high average.

This year's crop, therefore, was taken to indicate that many excellent samples of grain would be available for entry in the competitive classes of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina next year.

Death Of Toronto Publisher

Chas. Riddon, Late President Of Toronto Mail & Empire, Dies In Montreal

Charles Riddon, who built up the Riddon pulp and paper mills and was president of the Toronto Daily Mail and Empire, died at his home in Montreal recently, aged 84.

From 1863, when as a lad of 15 he joined his brother, John Riddon, in building a paper mill at Merrittville, Ont., Riddon was intimately connected with the pulp and paper industry of Canada until a few years ago, when his company was sold to the Canadian International Paper and Paper Company.

In 1877 he bought the Toronto Daily Mail, and Mr. Riddon remained its president until its sale in 1927, a period of 50 years, during which time he was a strong supporter of that city and its important factor in its establishment of the national policy under Sir John Macdonald in 1878.

The Empire newspaper was bought in 1891, the two forming the Toronto Mail and Empire.

Banked Savings In Canada

Couple From United States Thought It Was Safer

A despatch from St. Thomas, Ontario, tells of a young couple from the United States who recently visited that city and who brought with them their entire savings and deposited it in one of the banks at St. Thomas. The young couple admitted quite frankly that they had lost some of their savings in one bank failure in Pontiac, Mich., and had grave fears for the balance of their nest egg—hence they had brought it to Canada.

While our Canadian banks perhaps have a lot to answer for, we in Canada perhaps do not appreciate them as much as we should during periods of depression. Over on the other side of the line the number of bank failures this year has been appalling and the heavy losses among private citizens has been staggering in many centres.

Here in Canada a bank failure is a very rare thing, and anyone placing savings in one of our chartered banks, Government savings offices or loan companies, is practically sure of the return of his money.

Old Resident Dead

Winnipeg's oldest resident, Mrs. Mary Roberts, 94, is dead. She had lived there for 87 years, going to Old Fort Garry when she said there were hardly any white people there—just Indians and the Hudson's Bay folks. She was the mother of 13 children, one of whom fought in the Riel Rebellion.

Chinese opera singing is the latest hobby of China's deposed emperor. Explanations and Comments

The Return To Antioch From Jerusalem, 12:25.—Barnabas and Paul had been to Jerusalem to bring money from families and on their return John Mark was with them, probably as their attendant.

The Leaders At Antioch, 13:1.—In the flourishing church at Antioch there were numerous prophets and teachers of special inspiration. Among these was the energetic and lovable Barnabas of Cyprus. Others included Symeon the Black—doubtless a nickname—Lucius of Cyrene (the province in North Africa lying next to the Cyprian evangelists who established this church at Antioch (Acts 13:20); Mananias—another form of the Hebrew name—(Acts 13:4)—who was the "foster-brother" of Herod the Tetrarch (Herod Antipas, son of Herod the Great), and was seemingly a person of some social importance; and, finally, Paul of Tarsus. Apparently the historian meant Paul's place, at the end of the list, to be emphatic, just as was Barnabas' at the beginning of the list. These five leaders of the Antiochian church were evidently Grecian Jews.

The First Foreign Missionaries Chosen and Ordained, 13:2, 3.—While the church, under the leadership of these five men, was carrying on its services of worship, prayer and fasting, an advance movement was initiated under the direction of God. It was probable that the prayer of the church was "awakening up God for special guidance on a matter already occupying their thought; this matter was surely the question of a forward movement into the Roman Empire.

Paul and Barnabas, indeed, may have been thinking of this question, when they had brought with them from Jerusalem John Mark.

Whenever and wherever men and women are unitedly spiritual, prayerful, self-denying, carefully taught in Christian truth, and waiting upon the Spirit of God for His guidance in a matter of profound importance to His work, then and there the scene is laid for a mighty Christian enterprise to have its auspicious beginning or to advance its success.

The First Foreign Missionary Work In Cyprus, 13:4, 5.—Under orders of their "Fathers-in-Christ"—"being sent forth by the Spirit"—Barnabas and Paul set out on their forward movement into the Gentile world.

They went down the River Orontes to Seleucia, the seaport of Antioch, sixteen miles distant, and there sailed for the Island of Cyprus in the Mediterranean Sea.

"Historically this is the precise moment at which the foreign missionary enterprise actually began. The fact that we are Christians ourselves, dates back to that obedience of those men in that little ship. They took the little tree of Christianity and transplanted it from the cramping shadow of Judaism into the soil of humanity of the whole world. It is an apparently tiny act which, in simple fact, has laid down the perspective of the centuries, is seen to have changed the history of the world."

The First Battle-Royal With Paganism, 13:6-12.—At Paphos, on the west coast of the island, Paul and Barnabas met the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding, and with him a sorcerer, a Jew named Barjesus, or Elymas, as he was called in Greek. It is interesting that a Roman inscription has been found in which Sergius Paulus is expressly named as holding the office of proconsul. We know that magicians of all kinds were favourably received in Roman society, and it is in no way remarkable that one of these should have gained an influence with the proconsul.

Educational Films

Tables Introduced To Students At Summer School

The "canned professor" has been introduced to the students of the summer school of Washington University in St. Louis. In a darkened hall, he appeared on the screen. With him were the charts used in his lecture. He pointed to them as he talked. Here was an educational talk in literal sense. Given the "canned professor," the syndicated professor may follow. One man may appear simultaneously at 1,000 summer schools. The possibilities are limitless. For example, with the chain grocery store we may yet have the chain college, "canned professors" appearing on the silver sheet as they appeared before the camera at the central lecture room of the chain.—Boston Transcript.

Grower Receives Bounty

Tenant Farmer Will Receive the Full Five Cent Bonus

Farmers who grow wheat on land leased on a crop share basis will receive the Federal five-cent-bushel bonus on wheat in exactly the same manner as actual owner producers. Promise of this was contained in a letter received at Saskatoon by Dr. William Allen, of the farm management department at the University of Saskatchewan, from Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture.

The Federal Minister of Agriculture was answering a query as to whether the tenant farmer would receive the full five cents or only a part of the bounty, with a share going towards the owner of the land. He said the government intended to make certain the actual grower received the bounty.

Increased Postage

United States Boosts Postage On Letters To Canada and Newfoundland

Increase of postage on letters to Canada and Newfoundland from two cents an ounce to three cents, and on postcards from one cent to two cents was announced at Washington by Second Assistant Postmaster-General W. Irving Glover, to become effective September 1.

At the same time air mail postage to Canada will be increased from one cent to two cents and ten cents for each additional ounce.

Extension of irrigation works over 45,000 acres is sought by United Farmers of Alberta for the Purvis Springs, Greasy Lake, Burdett and Bow Island districts of Alberta's south. CHAPTER XXVIII

On the day that Nick arrived in Baker'sville, John Maxwell was at the train to meet him; yet the first familiar face Nick saw was that of old Sam Tod, the baggage man, who had known him since childhood, and who gripped his hand with a hearty, "Glad to see you back, boy. Thought for a while you was in a water gery."

"Not yet," said Nick, and laughed; but, even as he turned to meet John Maxwell's welcoming smile, it struck him as strange that old Tod had not joined in the hand with a hearty, "Glad to see you back, boy. Thought for a while you was in a water gery."

"Not yet," said Nick, and laughed; but, even as he turned to meet John Maxwell's welcoming smile, it struck him as strange that old Tod had not joined in the hand with a hearty, "Glad to see you back, boy. Thought for a while you was in a water gery."

"What's wrong, Mr. Maxwell?" John Maxwell started. The question was plainly unexpected.

"Why—nothing, my boy; nothing that isn't going to come out all right—I know it will come right now you've got back. You see—"

"Don't beat about the bush, sir. Has something happened to Gay?"

"No—no! That is—well, you have a little daughter, Nick—born too soon, but Bennett says she's coming along fine. We're not worrying about her; but Gay—she's been under a terrible strain, and when the message came—we don't know how because it wasn't opened—but she got the idea that the news was bad. She fainted. When she came to she was delirious. She's been so ever since."

Nick's face grew slowly white.

"You don't mean—you're not trying to tell me that—that she's lost her mind?"

"No, we don't say that. She knows the children. Dr. Bennett took them in yesterday to test her. But she babbles on continually about you. She evidently kept it to herself too much on the way, and she's paying for it now. She's had horrible visions of what was happening to you. They haunt her. When we tell her you're safe—she—well, it's pitiful. She thinks we're deceiving her and begs us not to. Bennett says she's going to meet you and explain it all better than I can; but he was called on an emergency case and had to go. You're our one big hope, Nick. The sight of you may blow away the cobwebs, if it she knows you."

"You mean—she may not know me?"

John Maxwell's hand closed on Nick's and gripped it hard.

"There's that possibility, of course; but she knew the children. Buck up, boy. You sure she'll know you. She loves you so dearly, Nick. How can she help—"

He took out a handkerchief and blew his nose. Nick said, his voice husky: "Where are the kiddies?"

"Mary's got 'em. Had 'em ever since Gay was taken sick. Janey's at your house doing the cooking. That girl Sam Bartlett held is laid up, just when they need her most. Julie Nipps is helping out, too. Mary's been keeping. Little Martha daytimes, so she'd be free. We'd have had the boys here to welcome you, but we didn't want them to hear about their mother. You see, Nick, Gay's tried so hard to keep them happy—not to let them guess that you might not be coming back at all, that we felt we mustn't undo her work. They're happy as the day is long, and proud as a bunch of their little sister. If they'd an idea you were here today wild horses couldn't have kept them away from the train. Here we are. There's old Bartlett. He's been a wonder."

Nick walked up the wide, brick path beside John Maxwell, he felt dazed, and unsteady on his feet. It was all so hideously different from what he'd planned. Uncle Sam, an obviously aged Uncle Sam, but with the same kindly life in his blue eyes, gripped his hand, patted his shoulder and said, knowing it was the one thing Nick would care to hear:

"She's asleep, boy. Haven't a real good nap. The doctor just called up and said you was going in and set beside her till she wakes. He thinks maybe the sight of you after a good sleep, will be just what she needs. The baby's a girl, Nick. Gay'll be real happy when she knows it. Now" (the old man's voice trembled), "now she's all right. You've got to understand."

Nick dropped his suitcase and sat down on the arm of a porch chair. He felt vaguely, that he couldn't stand up. His throat burned.

"Could—could I have a drink of water?"

"I'll get it."

John Maxwell had spoken. She returned in a moment with an ice-cold drink, and laid an affectionate hand on Nick's arm.

"Don't worry too much, Nick. She'll be all right now you've got home. I just know it. She's been so wonderfully brave that she couldn't stand it a minute longer; but everything will be all right now."

"You always were an optimist," said Nick. He tried to smile, but the attempt was painful. "May I go up now, Janey?"

She nodded, and led the way. As they reached the threshold of the familiar room, Nick paused, breathing deeply. The shades were lowered and for a moment he could not see, but he knew that a nurse who had been sent by the bed, arose, and with a whispered word to Janey, went downstairs. Dr. Bennett had given her his orders.

Nick felt curiously dazed and numb. Janey saw it, and slipping a kind hand in his, drew him toward a chair beside the bed.

He was alone then—alone with Gay. He leaned closer though his eyes had already become accustomed to the dimness. She lay on her side, facing him, her breathing faint and falling gently as she slept. There was a soft little curl lying against her forehead. Nick remembered seeing it the day he went away—that raw, cold day that seemed a century ago.

"Dearest," he said.

Not to save his soul could he have kept back the word. Gay moved, turned her head a little, and threw out a slender arm. She did not wake, but the outstretched hand seemed an unconscious welcome, and Nick took it tenderly in his. She did not stir. There was his lips against it, feeling the roughened finger-tips that told a story of homely tasks done lovingly for those she loved.

Love! How unfeeling had she been of it, he thought—how generous and understanding when the lure of the road had made him an uneasy house. Freedom! It seemed incredible that he had ever chafed for it, having Gay. It came to him, dully, as he looked down upon her, that unless she knew him when she awakened, there would be no freedom for him, ever again.

But she would know him! Surely he could find some way to prove himself. Of course she would know him! Hope stirred within his heart, as he sat there watching her quiet breathing. A clock in the room below chimed. The scent of some blossoming shrub came through the open window. The curtain stirred in the breeze. A paper fluttered to the floor; and at its sound Gay moved.

Slowly her eyes opened, and, meeting them, Nick's heart contracted in sudden fear. They were Gay's eyes of course—Gay's beautiful eyes; and yet—something was gone!

For a moment no words would come; then: "Gay," he said gently. "What's the matter?"

She covered the eyes quickly with her hands.

"Why do you speak?" she pleaded. "You have come before, but you have never spoken. Don't speak. It is only cruel. You see—I mustn't say anything to my baby comes; and when I see you—you are so like Nick—I—I can't keep back the tears."

after PLAYTIME
GIVE them a glass of Borden's Chocolate Malted Milk when they come in from school or play. Children love it, and so many a wise mother has discovered it is highly digestive and invigorating for building resistance against sickness.

Who did she think he was? It was unbelievable! For a moment the room went black; but Nick came up fighting. She should know him! He would not let her suffer such agony of spirit. There was some way. . . . Surely he would find the way. . . . He reached for the handle that was covering those strange, unnatural eyes, and held them fast.

"You have been dreaming, dearest," he said quietly, and wondered that his voice should be so steady. "You have been dreaming a long, long time; but now you are waking. It was only a nightmare, Gay. I have come home to you. I am safe. Now do you understand?"

She looked at him, pitifully confused.

"Have I been sick?"

He was stroking her arm gently, the way she loved.

"You have been very sick. Our little girl was brought to you. You remember. But it's all right now, dear. Everything's all right now."

A sob trembled on her lips. Her eyes filled. She seemed to be looking beyond him, out of the window and into the branches of the maple. He was forgotten.

"A little girl! Nick wanted a little girl; but—but she has come—too late."

Despair flooded Nick's heart. She looked so frail—almost unrecognizable; and those eyes—they were not Gay's eyes. . . .

"Dear, don't you believe me?—Don't you know me?" he pleaded desperately.

She tried to smile, as if not to hurt him. (To Be Continued.)

Making Gas From Straw

Definite Report On Commercial Feasibility Of Process Is Expected Shortly

Within a year to 18 months, the United States Government expects to be able to report definitely on the commercial feasibility of long discussed proposal for destructive distillation of straw to produce gas and various chemicals. Such a process would be a boon to the western part of the United States, as well as in Canada. The U.S. Bureau of Chemistry and Soils is now co-operating in experiments along this line at a plant in St. Paul, and at the same time is engaged in an additional study with full size commercial equipment, at a new location, in which it is hoped to examine more completely the project from the scientific side.

Tables Were Turned

American, staying with a hospitable tea-planter in Assam, thought he would send a cable home. It read: "All well. Staying on borders of Mongolia."

His hostess pointed out that Mongolia was hundreds of miles away. The American replied that his people knew where Mongolia was, but most probably had never heard of Assam. The hostess was rather hurt.

In due course they went to the telephone office, where the cable was handed in. In a moment a dusky face appeared at the pigeonhole, and the clerk said: "Bash . . . where is New York?"

"What," shouted the American, "never heard of the United States?"

"Oh, yes, sah," said the clerk, brightening. "Part of Canada, eh?"

What She Needed

A neighbour called on Mrs. C. only to find Mr. C. warning himself by the kitchen stove while Mrs. C. was out getting in the cows.

"You see," he explained, "we was both having a good wood and I noticed the cows had got away and I let Mary go after them. I thought a brisk walk in the cold air might do her good. She seemed to be getting kind white and peaked at the wood sawing."

The Great Wall of China has been called the "greatest structure built by man" in respect of volume of material used.

Lindbergh Plays Safe

Pays Attention To Smallest Detail and Takes No Chances

If playing the game safe is luck then Lindbergh is lucky! The man who was the first to fly alone across the Atlantic and who has pioneered countless other flights, doesn't gamble with death. Before he goes into the air he is most certain that his machine is in the very best working order and that it is of sufficient strength to overcome any extreme weather conditions he may encounter. "Lindy" has left social gatherings—never criticized for not doing—to go out and inspect the machine in which he was expected to continue a flight. He has upset schedules and even kept notables waiting because he would not take a chance with a faulty piece of mechanism or fresh weather. Many fine aviators are in their graves today because they neglected the little details, or were willing to "take a chance" with an imperfect machine—in the hope of winning the plaudits of their fellow-men.

Like our own great war ace, Colonel "Billy" Bishop, who says his aim is to be the oldest living rather than the greatest aviator, the flying hero of the United States knows that constant vigilance is the price of safety and aviation without safety means invariably one thing—death. Lindy's luck will disappear when he becomes careless.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Solves Ancient Problem

Euclidean Problem In Geometry Believed To Be Impossible

Tri-section of the angle by euclidean geometry, believed for 2,500 years to be impossible, has been accomplished by the Very Rev. J. J. Callahan, president of Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Pa., according to an announcement made at the university. The problem was one of three problems of geometry considered insoluble, the announcement said. The others are the re-duplication of the cube, that is, finding a cube with volume double that of a given cube and the squaring of the circle or finding a square or some other rectilinear figure equal in area to a given circle.

Hippias of Elis, a contemporary of Socrates, probably was the first to have attempted to trisect the angle, according to authorities on mathematics.

No More Asthma. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy sounds the death knell of this trying trouble. It stops the awful choking and painful breathing. It guards against night attacks and gives restful ability to sleep and rest the whole night long. Much is claimed for this remedy, but nothing but what can be demonstrated by a trial. If you suffer from asthma try it and convince yourself of its great value.

Coal From Britain

British Coal Shipments To Canada This Season Amount To 400,000 Tons

Supplies of Welsh and Scotch anthracite coal landed at Montreal amounted to 110,526 tons, nearly 12,000 tons less than during the same period of last year.

Total shipments of British anthracite to Montreal this season amount to 400,000, compared with 359,003 tons to the end of July, 1930, an increase of 41,003 tons. British bituminous shipments were smaller this year, amounting to 7,694 tons, compared with 21,151 tons in 1930.

No Russian coal has arrived, as an embargo exists against it. Last year the Soviet sent 87,857 tons up to the end of July. Germany has sent 15,783 tons of hard coal this year.

A York, S. C. dairyman says his cows give more milk when milked to a banjo accompaniment. But we understand it requires years of practice to play a banjo while milking a cow.

Age Of Electricity

Predicted That Next Fifty Years Will Witness Great Development

Claiming that the world had not yet properly adjusted itself to the ideals and needs of the new machine age, C. E. Skinner, East Pittsburgh, president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and assistant director of engineering of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, spoke before the Saskatchewan branch of the institute. Mr. Skinner is on his first official visit to Canada.

Norman Bubolz, vice-president of the Saskatchewan branch, who presided, welcomed Mr. Skinner on behalf of the branch, and Hon. J. A. Merkle, Minister of Labor and Industries, welcomed him on behalf of the provincial government.

The institute, said Mr. Skinner, faced a difficult year. The electrical industry was little more than half a century old, yet in those 50 years it had accomplished more and wrought more changes than any other discovery had in 1,000 years. The coming fifty years would see even more changes in which electricity would play a prominent part.

THE RHYMING
OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaels

IN ABSENCE

As a robed dream of sunlight,
As a lark desires the dawn,
So do my fond thoughts linger
With you, who now are gone.

Each trick of look or laughter
That made the hours gay,
Comes back like drifting perfume
The while you are away.

In days when I went clapping
Your hand within my own
The thought of you was not more Near—

Than now, that you have flown.
But with the morn returning
The lark will sing anew,
And I will thrill to music on
The day that brings me you!

Women Homesteaders

331 Alberta Women Fled On Homesteads In July

Homestead entries were made by 331 women of Alberta during the month of July with the coming into effect of new legislation allowing women to file on land.

During the month a total of 1114 homestead entries were filed, a large proportion of which were farmers from southern Alberta drought areas, re-locating in the south. Nearly one-half of the women who filed on land were unmarried.

Know This Fact

"Children," says the United States Children's Bureau, "should not be taught to be little misers. A savings bank into which pennies disappear never ceases to have relatively little training value." In other words, there is a time to feed Bunny—and a time to shake him. Little financiers no doubt need adult guidance; but the Children's Bureau is mistaken in if it thinks they haven't found out that Bunny Bank works both ways.

Little Helps For This Week

"Perfect love casteth out fear."—1 John IV. 18.

Ah, soul! look upwards trusting, kiss the rod,
And know there is no might have been With God.
From Him, whenever lowly we draw near,
We find a faith that in oblivion's sea,
Whimsy every dread and doubt eternally.

To love our neighbour is a great help to that perfect love of God which casteth out all fear. Nothing but the love of God will make you love your neighbour aright; and the Spirit of God, which alone gives weight for any good, will by these loves—which are life—strengthen you at last to believe in the light, even in the midst of darkness.—George MacDonald.

Discover New Islands

Soviet Icebreaker Finds Unrecorded Islands In Far North

Despatches from the Soviet Icebreaker "Malign," reported the discovery August 7 of four hitherto unrecorded islands in the far north region of the Franz Josef Archipelago. Southwest of Karl Alexander Island the exploring vessel charted three unknown islands at 81.12 north latitude, 30.55 east longitude. The fourth is described as a small, hilly bit of land in the Straits of Baxa. They will be formally claimed in the name of Soviet Russia in the near future by the Arctic Institute, which will name them.

WHAT SHALL WE TEACH THE CHILDREN OF CANADA

(Agnes MacPhail, M. P., in the House of Commons)

"We are passing through very difficult and very hard times, and there is nothing quite so nauseating to the people of Canada, nothing that arouses a rebellious spirit so strongly, as the fact that when they are striving to remain honest and cheerful and hard-working, at the same time they see rogues making off with wealth that really belongs to the nation. Unless something definite is done to curb these so-called financiers and the senators who get some of the money through their supposed political value, then, as a former teacher and as a woman I would ask: What are we going to teach the children of Canada? What is the use of saying to the boys and girls in our public schools, 'We must have high ideals, we must be honest and hard-working, we must respect our institutions, we must look up to our public men, and have confidence in them,' if such men are to be allowed to remain in the parliament of Canada? Here are three senators who appeared before the Beauchamps committee, and I suppose they will continue to bear the prefix 'honorable.' If there is to be any respect for the senate—and there is precious little now—we ought to rid the senate of their presence, and we should not be afraid of ashamed to say so.

"It is interesting to know where some of the campaign funds came from. It would be equally interesting to know where the remainder came from for both parties; because I do not think campaign funds always go to one party. I fancy they go to both. It is not so long ago that we had the liquor scandal, when an investigation disclosed that huge sums were paid to both parties by the liquor interests; then we had the customs scandal, and now the Beauchamps scandal. These investigations have given us three fine glimpses of how campaign funds are paid. This does not mean that we know where all the campaign funds come from, Junior, but it is very well indeed. He said: 'Gratefulness was always regarded as an important factor in dealing with democratic governments.'

"Well, in one way, I do not blame the parties; I blame the people for payment of campaign funds. As long as the people enjoy being fooled, it is their own fault. During my own campaigns I have said this many times: If the people of Southeast Grey do not want to pay for the financing of a candidate, then don't have one; if they do want one, then pay for it. Suppose every family in Canada paid $1 to the candidate of their choice—that is money enough to carry on an honest campaign, to pay for radio broadcasts, newspaper advertisements, lectures and any decent method of convincing the electorate. Undoubtedly the methods of securing campaign funds for the support of the old parties throttles the whole idea of democratic government."—U.F.A.

BOARDS PULL FOR SOUTHERN ROUTE

Pledging immediate relief to unemployed by constructing trans-Canada highway on a 50-50 basis with different provinces, construction of bridges and other permanent undertakings, assistance of constructing provincial highways by agreement with provinces, a standard eight-hour day, were among the chief matters taken up and discussed with the Hon. A. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce in Victoria, Tuesday afternoon, according to press dispatches.

The closing of the trans-provincial highway brought the various boards of trade into life, and telegraph wires hummed with pleadings and requests that the southern route be given preference. Kimberley Board of Trade went on record as favoring the southern route and the Kootenays were a unit in supporting this road, upon which the Dominion government has peacefully operated for its construction already, and to choose some other route at this time would be a wilful waste of public money as well as accommodating only a scattered population.

The southern route is a wonderfully scenic highway and will appeal to tourists, for there are few highways on the North American continent that boasts of such magnificent panoramas as afforded by the Cascade-Rossland road, though it is only about 50 miles in length.

From the amount of interest being taken in the selection of the trans-provincial highway and the strong representations being made by the Kootenays boards of trade in support of the southern route, it is highly probable that this route will be chosen.—Kimberley Press.

RELIEF MEASURES
BEING CONSIDERED

At a conference of Alberta mayors with Premiers Bennett and Brownlee, the delegation were assured that there is every reason to hope that relief shipments of coal would be made under authority of the Dominion government from the Drumheller valley, and probably other fields, and that arrangements were being made for the establishment of four depots throughout the Dominion for the distribution of approximately three hundred thousand barrels of flour.

Report comes from Edmonton in connection with the above that while the western provinces are to be asked to co-operate in the flour distribution plan, recently announced as sponsored by the Dominion government, such matters as policy on the part of the provincial authorities and prices to be paid have yet to be settled. The proposal was discussed at the conference in Calgary on Wednesday by Premier R. B. Bennett. From what can be learned, the relief plan would be of an elastic nature when carried out, so that it will be applied to sections in real need of it. That would mean that there is no definite allotment for any of the prairie provinces.

The Kapel shows were staged here for three days this week, and were, as formerly, very well patronized and enjoyed.

"Legs" Diamond was at New York fined $1,000 and sentenced to serve four years in jail for a breach of the U.S. prohibition law.

What's your know about that? The Enterprise this week filled printing orders for Fernie, Trail and Kamloops, in British Columbia.

Mr. Allan Hamilton deputy-mayor of Drumheller, is visiting here with his brother, Marshall. Mr. Hamilton is accompanied by his son, Tommy.

Great interest is being taken in the General Electric Radio sale at the Sentinel Motors garage, at Coleman. Mr. F. B. VanDuse, formerly of the Bank of Commerce staff at Coleman, is in charge of the radio department.

Miss Helen Dutil exhibited oil and watercolor paintings at the recent exhibition at Pincher Creek, and was awarded first and second prizes in water colors, first in oil paintings and first in painting on chinaware.

Drumheller city flag by-law, which was violated by the organizers of the unemployed and Communists in parade on August the first, is being seriously considered. Mayor Webb, of Winnipeg, has advised the Drumheller council that Winnipeg's by-law, requiring that the Union Jack shall precede all others, is being enforced to the letter.

BLAIRMORE UNITED CHURCH
Rev. J. W. Smith, B.D., Pastor

Serve the church that the church may serve you.

Services Sunday, August 30th, the past in charge.

10 a.m.—JUNIOR SCHOOL
11 a.m.—SENIOR SCHOOL and PUBLIC WORSHIP.

There will be no evening service for this Sunday, but beginning September 6th, the evening service will be resumed at 7.30 o'clock.

ST. LUKE'S, BLAIRMORE
A. S. Partington, Vicar

Next Sunday, the 13th after Trinity, the service will be at 7.30 p.m., instead of 7 a.m. as usual. There will be a radio broadcast service in the Pro Cathedral, Calgary, at 7.30 p.m. The Right Rev. A. E. Wainwright Ingram, Lord Bishop of London, will be the special preacher. The Bishop of London is one of the outstanding leaders of religious thought in England, and it will be a very great privilege to hear him.

In St. Luke's church arrangements are being made to have radio representation of the service, hymns, psalms, sermon, etc., and a cordial invitation is extended to all who so desire, to be present.

Mrs. George Brown and daughters are spending this week of their vacation caning on the Goodwin ranch, north of Burnis.

Moses Johnson, local district mines inspector, was one of the judges at the recent mine rescue and first aid competitions held in Fernie.

Mrs. W. Flinn and family, of Lethbridge, passed through Blairmore today, returning from a very pleasant motor vacation trip to Vancouver.

Quadruplets born last week to Mrs. Hester Philleary at Vancouver, have died. Three died soon after birth, the fourth passing a few hours later.

William Bartlett, veteran seagoing captain and father of Bob Bartlett, the Arctic explorer, died at Brigus, Newfoundland, on August the 26th, aged 82 years. He had pursued the seal fishery for sixty-two years without a break.

Fred J. White, Labor M.L.A., was down from Calgary on Monday to interview local district authorities on matters connected with unemployment relief. We understand that the government is seriously considering staging road work, to be spread over a considerable period and which will assist those who are absolutely out of work or part-time employed. The matter of improving the present road over the Frank slide, or building a new road north of the C.P.R. to Bellevue, was suggested as about the most important work that could be undertaken at this time.

Referring to the appointment of Mr. Sydney White to the Blairmore teaching staff, the High River Times comments as follows: Mr. White has been on the High River High School staff for the past two years and much regret was expressed locally when he resigned in June. Besides his academic duties, he was active in many phases of community life and will be sorely missed. He gave liberally of his time in the interest of school and town athletics, and his gift as a violinist placed incessant demand on his time, to all of which he responded at all times. He was also a much valued member of the Elks' band. The move to Blairmore, however, takes both Mr. and Mrs. White from their old home, and their many High River friends, although sorry to see them go, wish them every happiness and success.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Duncan continued on to Calgary and Drumheller on Friday, after a very pleasant two-day stay with friends here.

Misses Gertrude and Dorothy Moore, of Halfway Lakes district, have been holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Delicate at Bellevue.

The Macdonald government (Labor) in Great Britain has resigned. It reports says the Liberals will form a national cabinet under Macdonald.

Miss (Jack) Altmann has just taken a two-year lease on rooms in the Customs building, where she will reside and reopen her music studio.

Through the arrival of a son on Sunday last, via the stork, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Miller are rejoicing over the advent of a new hockey player.

With regret we learn of the death of Mr. G. Geoghegan, travelling auditor for the firm of Burns & Co. Limited, which occurred suddenly following an operation in the Michel hospital.

As a fire preventive measure, notices were last week end posted on all gates leading into the Rocky Mountains forest reserve, both north and south of the C.P.R. Crow's Nest line, and all parties camped in the reserve were notified to move out. This restriction will be in effect until sufficient rains come to allay the danger of fires and quench those in progress.

If the warden who is worried over the possibility of a few fishermen retaining a fish undersized would pay attention to those who boast of catching more than the lawful complement in one day, much in the interest of our fish protection would be accomplished. It is quite common knowledge that parties boast of catching 30, 40, 50, or even 60 in one day, while the law permits only 20.

At the recent agricultural fair at Pincher Creek, William Bennett, of the well-known Rock Creek Hereford Ranch, brought down the following prices: first for bull over two years; first, second and third for bull under two years; first and second for cow; first and second for heifers two years and over; first and second for heifers under two years; first for calf over six months; first and second for calf under six months; second for beef grade cattle under six months; first for beef cow (grade), and third for beef get-of-bull. At the same show, G. H. OPPOSES CLOSED

SEASON ON DUCKS

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 26.—Opposition to the proposal for declaring an international closed season on wild ducks and geese has been launched by the "Jack Miner League," an organization of supporters of the aims of Jack Miner, well-known naturalist. In a letter to J. Gott, member of the House of Commons for Essex South, E. R. Kerr, of Walkerville, secretary of the league, declares a general closed season would be unfair to Canadian hunters while 85 per cent of the wild fowl are hatched and bred in Canada, the greater proportion of the slaughter taking place in the United States, owing to the preponderance of United States hunters, Mr. Kerr declares.

The Jack Miner League advocates a closed season for two years in the United States, prohibition throughout North America for the use of live decoys and artificial feed beds in hunting ducks and geese, and reduction of the Canadian bag limits by one-half.

There was ninety-nine per cent more interest manifested by those who witnessed Sunday evening's baseball game than ever can be expected from any of those who are registering disapproval of Sunday ball—and the average amount contributed to the collection represents a similar percentage.

J. Morgan, formerly of the Macleod district school inspectorate, has retired on pension, and is succeeded at Edmonton by Owen Williams, of Vegreville.

The engagement has just been announced of Mr. Henry J. Thornton, Jr., only son of Sir Henry Thornton, the head of the Canadian National Railways. The bride-elect is Eleanor de Munn, daughter of Herman de Munn, who had large interests in the Champagne district of France, near Reims, before the war. The de Munn's are now living in Frankfurt, Germany. They also have a villa near Schloss, Johannesburg. The marriage will take place in the de Munn villa on September 12, after which the young couple will proceed immediately to Montreal.

A Dominion-wide effort is being made by the government to clean up the various Indian reservations scattered throughout Canada of all people living on reserves who are not bona fide tribe members. No drastic course is contemplated, it is learned, but it has been brought to the attention of the government that a number of whites are living on Indian reserves largely at the expense of the country. In certain instances, whites have married Indian girls and have taken up residence on reserves, participating in medical treatment, free schooling for their children and other benefits at the expense of the country.

BANK CREDIT FOR BINDER TWINE

Premier Brownlee when in Ottawa discussed with the Dominion Government and the Banks the question of credit being made available to farmers where necessary for the purpose of purchasing binder twine. Acting out of the conference at Ottawa, the banks having superintendents in Alberta discussed with Premier Brownlee on August 11th the question of credit for this purpose, and as a result the GOVERNMENT WOULD ADVISE ALL FARMERS REQUIRING BINDER TWINE TO MAKE APPLICATION TO THEIR BANKS FOR CREDIT FOR THAT PURPOSE, EVEN IF AN UNSUCCESSFUL APPLICATION HAS ALREADY BEEN MADE.

It is important that all applications be made immediately

A WAR ON THE SLOW POKES

Many automotive papers, both in this country and the United States, are recommending the making of slow driving an offense under the law where conditions make it dangerous. So far as some of the provinces of Canada are concerned the police already take action in aggravating cases basing their activity on legislation now existing. There was a recent case in Mimico, Ontario, where a driver was fined for proceeding at 17 miles an hour and the magistrate remarked "You are causing unnecessary trouble for everybody else when you drive at that rate." Evidently the slow pokes are in danger.

CORBIN HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. F. Reger were motor visitors to Trail over the week end.
We wish to correct an error made in last issue. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Matt are to be congratulated upon the birth of a daughter, not a son as stated.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Shaw and daughter Joan returned home on Sunday last from an enjoyable holiday spent in northern Alberta.

Harold Elms returned home this week from a holiday spent at Spokane.

The picnic, which had been postponed a week on account of the threatening fire, got off to a good start on Sunday morning, when the train pulling its load of passengers plunged bound, started moving down the valley for Cold Springs at 8.30 in the morning. Here everything was in readiness—refreshment booths had been erected, swings were put in order for the kiddies, the race track was cleared of weeds and levelled off, a dancing pavilion erected under a clump of towering pines, a band of forty pieces imported from Michel was there to fill the air with music during intermissions, lunch tents were provided for their convenience, etc. An athletic programme filled in the morning, with the winners of events as follows: boys' race, under 5, Andrew Sisko; girls under 5, Mary Husulok; boys under 8, Harry Jorgenson; girls under 8, Marjorie Dor-man; boys 8 to 11, Steve Borani; girls 8 to 11, Francis Kolinski; boys 11 to 13, Steve Barasok first, Nick Petrun-lak second; girls 11 to 13, Mary Kolinski; boys 13 to 15, Denis Parsons;
girls 13 to 15, Evelyn McGruver;
sack race, Jeanetta Queen; mixed three-legged race, Dennis Parsons and Helen Slemco first, Nick Petrun-lak and Mary Kolinski second; mixed shoe race, Jeanetta Queen. An interval for lunch was taken after this part of the programme had been completed. Luncheon hampers magically appeared, and in no time the landscape was dotted with picnicking parties, eating to the strains of hitting music provided by the band. The programme continued, with winners as follows: boys under 5, Billy Stone; girls under 5, Evelyn Grieve; boys 5 to 8, Gordon Travis; girls 5 to 8, Marjorie Dorman; boys 8 to 11, Andy Waddington; girls 8 to 11, Nancy Jackson first, Francis Kolinski second; boys 11 to 13, Andy Waddington
first, Steve Boranic second; girls 11 to 13, Cecilia Chole first, Mary Kolinski second; boys 13 to 15, Dennis Parsons; girls 13 to 15, Jeanetta
Queen; sack race, Albert Hoffman; married ladies' race, Grace Woodward; single ladies' race, Evelyn Mc-Gruther; married ladies' egg and spoon race, Mrs. Elms; single ladies' egg and spoon race, May Parsons;
100-yard dash, Jimmie Woodward
(first heat), Kabachuk (second heat), Walter Elms (third heat); bands-men's race, Andrew Kraul; 100-yard final, Walter Elms first, Jimmie Woodward second; horseshoe contest,
D. Struss first, T. Grieve second; extra 100-yard dash, Mike Beniske first, Walter Elms second. This concluded the athletic programme and the band journeyed across to the dancing pavilion, where they were playing for dancers when the piercing whistles from the train brought all reveling to a sudden halt and there followed a mad scramble of human beings for Corbin and home, where they spent the remainder of the evening watching the fire steadily advancing toward their homes and loved ones.

MANY CHANGES IN 1931

GAME REGULATIONS

Copies of the 1931 Game Regulations have been sent out during the week. Drastic changes have been announced, in an effort to conserve the waterfowl which have been so seriously reduced as a result of drought.
While the changes are hoped to be of benefit, it is confidently expected in some well-informed quarters that a dial ban will be placed on duck and goose hunting this year, in Canada and the United States. For the present, however, the season will open at twelve o'clock noon on September 15th and will close on November 14th.
Spartan are especially reminded that the season will not open until noon of the first day.

In an effort to conserve the duck supplies, decimated by drought conditions prevailing for the past few years in the breeding grounds, the

WHEAT BONUS FOR BENEFIT OF GROWERS ONLY

Winnipeg, Man.—Between $6,000,000 and $8,000,000 will be distributed directly to growers of wheat in the three prairie provinces as a result of the Federal Government bonus of five cents a bushel, according to an estimate made by E. B. Ramsay, chairman of the Board of Grain Commissioners, who Thursday, August 20, announced details of the bonus administration.

Forty members of the civil service eligible list, or former employees of the Department of the Interior, will be installed in an office here to check up bonus receipts with cash grain tickets throughout the west. The clerical office will be managed by the chief accountant of the Board of Grain Commissioners, with the auditors, to be appointed, assisting.

The bonus, Mr. Ramsay pointed out, is for growing wheat—not for owning it. The man who grows the wheat gets the money whether he owns the grain or not, or regardless of whether he grows it for someone else. The only exception will be the man on the farm, who is paid wages in money, or partly in money and partly by share of the crop. Should he get wages entirely through crop-sharing, the bonus of five cents a bushel goes directly to him.

Regulations stipulate that "no person shall assign any claim to any bonus, and no person shall accept any such assignment. No person who is authorized by these regulations to issue a bonus certificate shall recognize or act upon any order or direction authorizing payment or delivery of the bonus certificate to any person other than the grower."

Arrangements have been made with elevator companies, truck buyers, buyers, commission merchants and grain dealers to issue bonus certificates on "street" wheat or "graded storage" wheat, while wheat in car lots will be settled for after official inspection of the grain.

These bonus certificates must bear on the back the declaration of the grower that the wheat was grown in the year 1931, and in the provinces of Manitoba, Alberta or Saskatchewan. When this has been done the certificate can be taken to any chartered bank and turned into cash free of charge. No stamp duty will be levied on these vouchers.

A wrong declaration on grain delivered makes the grower liable to punishment under the criminal code. Administration of the act covering the five-cent bonus is in the hands of the Board of Grain Commissioners for Canada, and E. B. Ramsay, chairman of the board, announces that he is negotiating for office space.

A staff of 40 will handle the work of issuing and checking certificates. Between two and three millions of these certificates will probably be required. It is expected two or three experienced grain men will be added to the staff.

Fulton, will have the famous rifleman as guest for two weeks. Sgt. Fulton arrived from Ottawa on Tuesday, August 18, following the Dominion Rifle Association meeting at Connaught Range, where he aided the English team in the competition.

Ready For Test Shipment

All Facilities At Churchill In Ready-ness For Grain Boats

The Pas, Man.—Except for the final touches, Churchill today is ready to handle the 600,000 bushel test shipment of grain that will pass through the Pas starting September 4. C. R. Grosz, chief engineer of the construction department of the Canadian National Railways, announced Wednesday, August 19, upon his return from an inspection at Churchill. The most modern elevator on the continent will find no difficulty in handling the grain, the C.N.R. executive declared. The 500 cars of grain will be unloaded from the tracks at the rate of one every two minutes. Three special locomotives will be brought in to aid in bringing the grain from here to the new bay port, 512 miles north of here. All the grain is being brought from the port elevator at Saskatoon.

All grain will be stored in the 2,500,000 bushel elevator by September 15. The two tramp steamers will dock at Churchill between September 15 and September 20. There will be no other boat engaged in shipping the grain from Churchill.

All the docking facilities are not completed and only one boat can be loaded at a time, although the dockage provides for two ships. The bay line is in first class condition for the handling of the grain. The principal cargo being brought into Churchill by the two tramp steamers engaged in the hauling.

Duties On Magazines

New Regulations Governing Revised Duties Are Announced

Ottawa, Ont.—Regulations governing the revised duties against foreign newspapers, magazines and periodicals entering Canada are issued by the Department of National Revenue. They will become effective September 1, except the 15 cent duty against week-end newspapers, which will not come into force until regularly proclaimed by the government.

It was set forth in the regulations that the higher duties will not become effective until April 1, 1932, against Canadian papers that are subscribed to foreign magazines or periodicals before June 2, 1931. This delayed action will mean seven months' grace to bona fide subscribers of the latter class.

The effect of the duties and the regulations was to segregate magazines and periodicals. Daily newspapers will continue to enter this country free of duty. Magazines with an advertising content ranging between 20 and 30 per cent. of the total space will pay a duty of two cents a copy. When the advertising content exceeds 30 per cent. the tariff will be five cents a copy.

Magazines in which the advertising content does not exceed 20 per cent. of the total space or those in the interests of religion, education, science, agriculture, labour or fraternal organizations, will bear no duty.

DEBT REVISION IS URGED BY BANKING GROUP

Basel, Switzerland.—After startling the world with a declaration advocating the revision of reparations and the revision of reparations and war debts, the Wiggan Committee of International Bankers waited expectantly to see what Great Britain, the United States and other great powers are going to do about it.

Backed by the prestige of the ten strongest banking groups in the world, the Wiggan investigators, in a report made public, declared that to bring full and immediate relief to Germany and other gravely distressed nations will be essential to make a new deal in the schedules of international payments.

It is eventually, however, was frankly asserted to be bound up with the necessity of clearing up the political disputes of Germany and her neighbors.

After an examination of Germany's financial situation the bankers put the question up to the governments and called on them for action. Only action by the powers along these lines can restore economic prosperity to the troubled world, the financial experts stated.

Two immediate possibilities loomed up. Will the governments, taking up the bankers' challenge, immediately summon a diplomatic conference to tackle reparations problems? or will they call on a banking commission—Mr. Wiggan's or a new one—to advise them as to the next practical step?

The eyes of observers here are turned to Washington and to Paris to discover the diplomatic reaction to the bankers' proposal. Participation by both these governments in any movement for revision is clearly indispensable, it is pointed out, since the United States is the receiver of debt payments and France the chief goal of reparations.

Taking Holiday Trip

Ottawa, Ont.—Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, has sailed for Europe on the steamer, "Empress of Britain." Mr. Ryckman is taking a holiday trip which has nothing to do with the business of the department, it is stated.

Lloyd George Recovering

Is Recuperating On Model Farm In Surrey Hills, England

London, England.—Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, who recently underwent an operation, has sufficiently recovered to go from his London home at Addison Road to his country house at Churst in the Surrey Hills.

On his model farm, among his cows, sheep, gardens and orchard, the former prime minister will recuperate until he is able to visit his old home in Wales.

Lloyd George is the only British political leader not actively participating in the present negotiations dealing with the British financial crisis. Sir Herbert Samuel is serving for him as chief of the Liberal party.

Almost 10,000 people viewed the exhibition of stunt flying.

Farm Wages

Offers Made By Saskatchewan Farmers Have Few Takers

Regina, Sask.—Farmers in Saskatchewan are offering from board alone up to board and $15 monthly in wages for help with very few takers, so far, according to a bulletin issued by provincial department of railways, labor and industries. The bulletin states that publicity being given pending relief works is responsible for this condition, unemployed men preferring to wait for the latter before taking farm work.

To Check Grasshopper Plague

Measures Must Be Taken Now To Prevent Invasion Next Year

Winnipeg, Man.—Farmers of Canada and the United States are being urged to co-operate to check a threatening grasshopper plague in 1932, using man-made devices to destroy the millions of eggs. A rainy season would keep down the pests to normal numbers, it is asserted, but preventive work is advocated.

Two districts have been suggested. One is to plough the land this autumn so deep that eggs now being laid in the ground will not hatch. The other is to cultivate the surface of the ground late in the fall so as to expose and destroy the eggs.

Eggs are now being laid in millions upon millions, experts state. Almost the entire area today from the Rockies to the Great Lakes and from the North Saskatchewan River to the prairies of the southeast has become fertile breeding ground for hoppers and locusts. In some country districts this year visitation of the insects has been so heavy that they have plucked up radiators of motor cars driving through.

Fodder Requirements

Southern Drought Areas Of Saskatchewan To Be Supplied From North

Regina, Sask.—The fodder requirements of the southern drought areas of Saskatchewan probably will be met by the early cutting of grain crops in the north, F. H. Auld, deputy minister of agriculture, stated here.

Already a group of inspectors in the north inspecting the crops that have been offered to the department for this purpose, Mr. Auld said, and it is believed that the schedule of prices laid down by the department of agriculture for the purchase of feed and fodder will make it possible for northern farmers to cut their crops as hay, instead of harvesting them in the usual way.

Relief Takers Must Work

Unemployed Who Turn Down Jobs Will Receive No Consideration

Ottawa, Ont.—Unemployed men who turn down an offer of work will receive no further consideration from the Provincial or Federal Governments, Senator G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labour, announces.

Senator Robertson said: "If and when men are known definitely to have declined employment, the Provincial and Federal Governments may feel proper to obligate them to be discharged. Men who refuse employment, with safe surroundings, wholesome food, shelter and a modest compensation will not merit further sympathy or consideration by the state."

ASK GOVERNMENT TO BEAR LARGER SHARE OF RELIEF

Calgary, Alberta.—Requests for alterations in the payment of costs of unemployment relief projects, as affecting the Dominion, Provincial, and Municipal Governments, were made by Alberta representatives at conferences with Prime Minister R. B. Bennett here. Efforts of Calgary's representatives were aimed at having the Provincial and Federal Governments bear the greater part of the costs.

Mayor Davison, of Calgary, asked that the Provincial and Federal Governments bear 75 per cent. of the costs, with the municipalities paying the balance. He pleaded that should be done for the winter of 1931-32 as last year the municipalities paid 50 per cent. and the Provincial and Federal Governments 25 per cent. each.

He estimated that more work would be required to be carried out this winter because of the increased number of unemployed. Calgary is planning a $50,000 relief program, while Edmonton is considering works costing in excess of $1,000,000.

It was anticipated by delegates attending the sessions that if the Calgary suggestion of pro-rating costs were adopted, the same policy would have to be put into effect for all other provinces in the Dominion.

Attending the sessions, besides the Prime Minister, Premier Brownlee and Mayor Davison, were Hon. George Hoadley, Provincial Minister of Agriculture and Health; Hon. O. L. McPherson, Provincial Minister of Public Works; Hon. R. G. Reid, Provincial Treasurer; Dr. G. D. Stanley, M.P., East Calgary; A. U. G. Bury, M.P., East Edmonton; Mayor J. M. Douglas, Edmonton; Mayor R. Barrowman, Lethbridge; and the mayors of Medicine Hat, Red Deer, Wetaskin, Camrose and Drumheller.

CANADA RETAINS ENVIABLE PLACE IN WHEAT TRADE

Ottawa, Ont.—Despite rigorous competition and several adverse world factors, Canada continued practically all of the world's wheat shipments during the 12 months ending July 31 last. In a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics it was stated: "Canadian participation in the world's wheat trade during the past crop year cannot but be regarded with satisfaction."

Faced with stiff competition from Russia and the Argentine in the European market and with the Oriental market captured largely by Australia through depreciated currency, Canada last year exported 228,484,463 bushels of wheat and 6,701,663 barrels of flour. This was the equivalent of 258,637,887 bushels, actually exported, an increase of 12,370,675 bushels over the 1929-30 crop. A decrease was recorded, however, from the last five-year average of 308,853,540 bushels.

Canadian wheat exports were divided almost equally between eastern and western routes. Shipments from the Pacific Coast port totalled 74,541,866 bushels, while exports through Atlantic gateways, including re-routed wheat from United States, amounted to 74,022,561 bushels. The balance of the wheat movement was through United States ports.

Commenting on world wheat conditions last year, the bureau report listed four outstanding factors. World shipments of wheat and flour aggregated 787,000,000 bushels, compared to 612,000,000 in 1929, 928,000,000 in 1928, and 760,000,000 bushels for the five-year period 1925 to 1929.

The return of Russia as an exporter of wheat was the chief development of the crop year. Another was the withdrawal of United States from the export market. A third factor was the monetary situation developed in the Argentine and Australia from depreciation of currency. The German financial crisis in the closing months of the crop year created an element of uncertainty in the wheat market, which reflected in a reduced volume of international trade.

Wheat Crop Estimate

Wheat Pool States Crop On August 15, Was 51 Per Cent. Of Normal

Winnipeg, Man.—Western Canada's wheat crop is in poorer condition this month compared with July, according to the crop report of the Canadian wheat pool. The pool states that the wheat crop on August 15 was 51 per cent. of normal compared to 52 per cent. on July 29. On August 15, 1930, the report continues, the wheat crop was 68 per cent. of normal.

The report figures that 67 per cent. of the wheat in Manitoba will grade No. one and two northern, 28 per cent. No. three and five per cent. No. four and lower.

Saskatchewan wheat crop remains stationary regarding conditions compared with last month. The pool reports that on August 15, the crop was 42 per cent. of normal, the same figure that prevailed around the end of July. Last year in August it was 66 per cent. of normal. On the 29th points reported sufficient moisture, the remainder of the 453 places heard from being in need of rain, 12 affected by grasshoppers, 14 injured by light frost. Forty points reported complete crop failures. The report continues that it estimates 70 per cent. of the wheat will grade one and two northern, 28 per cent. three northern and four per cent. four and lower.

Alberta displays the rosy picture of the prairie wheat lands, reporting its crop 49 per cent. of normal compared with 47 per cent. a year ago. Grasshoppers affected six districts, light frost struck 23, while 64 points complain of the crop being heavy, green and late. Nine areas were injured by hail, the report states. Only 55 per cent. of the wheat, however, is expected to grade one and two northern. Moisture has been sufficient except in the south.

Shows Substantial Balance

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada had a credit balance of $186,000,000 from the tourist industry in 1930. That figure represented the difference between the money spent abroad by travelling Canadians and what was distributed in this country by residents of United States, Great Britain and the other nations of the world who toured Canada. In the previous year, Canada had a credit balance from this industry of approximately $188,000,000.

In the death of J. J. Hunter, proprietor of the Kincardine Review-Reporter, which occurred in Kincardine, August 11, weekly journalism in Ontario and throughout Canada has suffered a real loss. We do not know from which source influence was brought to bear, but the local A.P. police are endeavoring to put a stop to Sunday baseball as being in contravention of the Lord's Day Act. Baseball and all other sports are carried on on Sundays in all parts of British Columbia and in some other provinces. No fee is charged for games, but very often the hat is passed around for financial assistance. If it can be claimed that such a hat constitutes an admission fee, certainly it can be proven that the annual fee paid for the privilege of playing golf, or tennis, or curling, can be simmered down to an admission fee for each game played. Fanatics who feel they can deprive sport of financial support and divert the funds to the use of the church should divert their energies to some saner avenue.

This "Yes, absolutely" should have been the rule in the Crows' Nest Pass on August the first in connection with the question as to whether the red flag should have been preceded by the Union Jack. And we should go further to claim that any individual who felt otherwise should be shipped right to the country that advocated that red flag. A really naturalized Canadian should not be found trailing in any procession in Canada that did not lead off with the Canadian flag or the Union Jack, if a flag at all.
